Celebrate Warrior Care Month

November is Warrior Care Month, observed annually since 2008 to highlight resources for wounded, ill, and injured Service Members, their families, and caregivers. Acting Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, Mr. Vazirani, stated, "Many professionals within the department work year-round to ensure that exceptional care is provided to Service members... I ask you to become more informed about available resources, explore new ways to help our wounded, ill, and injured Service members realize their potential, and foster even greater discourse about these efforts." CAP supported Warrior Care Month with various events and activities.

Air Force Day of Healing Care Fair

On November 18th, CAP attended the annual Air Force Day of Healing Care Fair at the National Harbor in Washington, DC. Wounded warriors, their families, and caregivers were invited to explore the services and assistive technology devices that may be provided by CAP to support their recovery and reintegration into the workforce.

Recovery Coordination Advisory Council Briefing

During November, CAP partnered with the Defense Health Agency Office of the Warrior Care Recovery Coordination Program to support Warrior Care Month activities. In addition, CAP provided a comprehensive briefing for the Recovery Coordination Advisory Council (RCAC) by providing a program overview and emphasizing the resources available to wounded, ill, and injured Service members through CAP.

Looking Ahead

As Warrior Care Month drew to a close, CAP remained steadfast in its dedication to supporting wounded, ill, and injured Service members year-round. Through ongoing programs, partnerships, and emphasis on the employment lifecycle, CAP will continue to highlight the challenges faced by the military community and the resources available to support their recovery and reintegration into the workforce.
